Incidents in the Warehouse

by Kristen Kohli

Difficulty Level: ❸

Mr. SP is trying to pull together this month's accident reports, but unfortunately, the files all seem to be misplaced. All he has are a few assorted scraps of paper recounting the events of the past week. Help him determine who was on duty during each of the past weekdays, the sublevel they encountered problems on, the type of creature they had to deal with, and the type of weapon they used in defense.

Clues:

1. Although Carol ran into trouble deeper in the warehouse than either the woman with the wet noodle or the woman who ran into rats, her shift was earlier in the week.
2. Bunny Foo-Foo, who was not found on Tuesday, was on the level beneath the one Debby found a creature on, and just above the level where a creature was found on Thursday.
3. Bunny slippers proved to be an effective defense against one of the two green creatures, both of whom were in the lowest levels.
4. The body snatchers, who were on an even-numbered sublevel, were found later in the week than both the green ooze and the creature distracted by the whipped cream, and earlier in the week than the creature Ranhisa found.
5. The sequined woman found her creature the day after the rat was found on the level above her, and the day before Jen had duty.
6. Neither Carol nor Ranhisa used the duct tape.

	Sublevel 3	Sublevel 4	Sublevel 5	Sublevel 6	Sublevel 7	Body Snatcher	Bunny Foo-Foo	Crocs	Green Ooze	Rats	Bunny Slippers	Duct Tape	Sparkly Sequins	Wet Noodle	Whipped Cream	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
Carol
Debby
Gina
Jen
Ranhisa
Monday
Tuesday
Wednesday
Thursday
Friday
Bunny Slippers
Duct Tape
Sparkly Sequins
Wet Noodle
Whipped Cream
Body Snatchers
Bunny Foo-Foo
Crocs
Green Ooze
Rats																				